

About PASBAN

"The Pakistan Society of Basic & Applied Neuroscience (PASBAN) is a nonprofit educational and scientific organization authorized by the Government of Pakistan. Our primary focus is to explore the intricacies of the brain, both in its healthy and pathological states. We delve into neuroscience at various levels, from molecular and cellular to behavioral, social, and epidemiological, to uncover the role of neuroscience in healing."

Vision

"Driving the future of neuroscience in Pakistan through bridging basic and applied neuroscience research, and innovation."

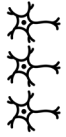

Mission

"Our mission is to enhance the understanding of neuroscience concepts in Pakistan and the surrounding region. We achieve this by increasing public awareness of neuroscience, organizing academic events for professionals, promoting interdisciplinary collaboration to encourage locally relevant research, and fostering connections with the global neuroscience community."
